ARCHBISHOP IS DEAD

ONE MAN KILLED!

His Grace George Montgomery Is Called.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Archbishop Montgomery died at 1:30 this afternoon.

Archbishop George Montgomery was one of the best-known Catholic prelates in California. He was beloved both by the clergy and the Catholic people. For years he was stationed in San Francisco, always occupying high positions in the church. Then he was transferred to Los Angeles for a time, and subsequently returned to San Francisco. The Pope offered him the archbishopric of the Philippines, but this he refused. He was known all over the world because of his scholarly attainments and devotion to the church.

Cardinal Gibbons ordained Archbishop Montgomery in Baltimore December 20, 1879, and he was consecrated bishop and coadjutor to Monterey and Los Angeles by Archbishop Riordan in St. Mary's Cathedral of this city April 8, 1894.

On June 10, 1896, Bishop Montgomery succeeded Bishop Mora at Los Angeles where he remained for seven years, and in October of 1902 was transferred again to San Francisco as coadjutor to Archbishop Riordan.

Among other societies and organizations founded by Bishop Montgomery is the League of the Cross Cadets.

Archbishop George Montgomery has been widely known and revered through San Francisco by those outside his faith as well as by his followers. He was born in Davis county, Kentucky, December 20, 1831, and a nephew of Zachariah Montgomery, whose name is well known to Californians.

BIG TRAIN ON SANTA FE RUNS AWAY

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 10.—At five o'clock this morning an extra east-bound Santa Fe freight train broke in two at Rowan, a small station near the summit of Tehachapi mountain and the rear section composed of 15 cars, two "hog" locomotives and a caboose dashed down the steep mountain grade to a curve a short distance from Bealeville, where all but five cars and a locomotive are now heaped in a monstrous pile of twisted steel and splintered timbers.

So far as known no one was killed.

From Rowan to Bealeville is a distance of nine miles and down this grade the trucks covered with frost and ice, the heavy runaway train made the distance in the terrifying time of six minutes.

The stumbling inhabitants of the mountain town were awakened by the deafening roar of the flying cars and the crash when the speeding runaway hit the curve.

A search through the wreckage failed to discover any bodies, all of the trainmen on the runaway section having jumped for their lives when it began to slide.

The Southbound Owl and regular Overland Southern Pacific trains, the morning Santa Fe passenger trains and all eastbound freight trains are being held in the yards here.

Wreckers and wrecking crews have been sent out from Kern City and Mojave and it is expected to have the track cleared sufficiently by midnight to allow trains to move.

BROADWAY PROPERTY SELLS FOR $2000 A FOOT

The First National Bank has sold the property at the northeast corner of Eleventh and Broadway, 50x100, for $100,000. This is $2000 a front foot for the Broadway frontage. The bank bought the property for $70,000. The sale gave the bank a $100,000 net.

BOY, AGED 11 YEARS, DIES; LIVED A LIFE EQUAL TO MAN AGED 60 YEARS

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Minneapolis says: James Anderson, who died at the City Hospital here yesterday at the age of 11 years and 2 months, was, in the opinion of physicians, at least 60 years of age at the time of his death, so far as the condition of his vital organs determine the age of a man. When the child was six years old, his hair began to turn gray, his eyesight began to fail, and he walked with the deliberate care of a person well advanced in years. As a very young child he was exceptionally bright, but his mental faculties were gradually failing for the last two years, so he was little better than a person in his dotage during the last few years.

RUMORS REGARDING THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL LOT Offers Have Been Made for It, but All Have Been Rejected by the Trustees.

Rumor has been rife for several weeks past concerning the First Congregational church property, for which several bids have been made to the board of trustees by real estate agents and others who professed to represent certain firms desirous of securing it as a location for business. The names of the Boardman and other large San Francisco department stores have been freely associated with these rumors, but the agents making the offers for the property have steadfastly refused to disclose their clients.

SECRETARY'S STATEMENT.

L. K. Boardman, cashier of the Union Savings bank, is secretary of the church board of trustees. Being interviewed this morning regarding the rumors prevalent on the street that the property had been practically sold, he declared there was no truth in them.

OFFERS MADE FOR THE PROPERTY.

"We have had four or five offers, more or less definite, for the property by would-be purchasers," said he, "but they have all been rejected and there is at present positively nothing of the kind before the board."

Then he continued: "Because at a meeting where one of these bids was being considered the chairman of the board made the remark in an off-hand way that nothing less than $400,000 would be considered, it has been erroneously assumed that that figure is the board's price for the property. As a matter of fact, the board has not fixed a price. It has not even signified its desire to sell. The property is, therefore, not on the market. Don't misunderstand me, however, and think that the property will not be sold if a proper offer is made for it. But if anyone wants it, he must take the initiative and make his offer. The church is not seeking a buyer; nor is it offering the property for sale. While no price has been named, it may be safe to say that no figure below $400,000 will be considered by the board for one minute."

NO OCCASION TO SELL.

"We are in fact," added Mr. Boardman, "in a position where we have no occasion to sell. The church has plenty of money and has no disposition to move elsewhere. The idea seems to have gone abroad that the proximity of the Orpheum to the church would be objectionable to the pastor and the officers of the church and the congregation. It is quite the reverse. All concerned are entirely indifferent on the subject and the pastor, Mr. Brown, has frankly stated that the presence of the playhouse on the adjoining property cannot in any way affect the church unfavorably."

The lot on which the First Congregational church stands has a frontage of 200 feet on Clay street and 120 feet on Twelfth street and Thirteenth street.

TENANTS ON CARPENTIER PROPERTY NOTIFIED TO QUIT The Western Pacific Company Wants the Use of the Property at Once.

The Western Pacific Railroad Company owns a lot of property along the line of Third street, which it bought at the time it was an applicant for a franchise in order to get the necessary frontage represented in its petition to the Council. Among these properties was the old Carpenter place on the north side of Third street, between Alice and Harrison, 300x100. This has since been occupied by tenants, subject to one month's notice to vacate. The notice has just been served on them to vacate within four weeks. Asked if it was the company's intention to sell the property, one of its prominent representatives here replied: "The company has no intention to sell a foot of its Oakland holdings."

Heney and Fairall at the Point of Striking Each Other.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Just before the Supreme Court convened today to hear the petition of Mayor Schmitz for an order releasing him from custody on a writ of habeas corpus, Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Heney and Charles Fairall, one of the attorneys for Schmitz, nearly came to blows over what Heney termed an unwarranted interference on the part of the Schmitz attorneys in the work of the district attorney's office.

Sheriff O'Neil was seated at the end of the bar revising a typewritten copy of the returns to the writ of habeas corpus. Beside him and consulting with him were Assistant District Attorney Heney and the sheriff's attorney, T. C. West. Fairall, who had been seated some distance away, joined the group and offered the suggestion that the sheriff should eliminate a paragraph stating that the mayor surrounded himself into custody for the sole purpose of asking for the writ. Heney exclaimed that he did not know by what right Fairall "butted in" with instructions on such a matter.

"Oh, I'm not instructing the sheriff," said Fairall. "I was just asking you if you wanted it in."

"Well, I don't see what right you have as the attorney for the defendant to offer advice to the district attorney. We don't need it," Heney retorted with some feeling.

This caused Fairall to lose his temper and he shouted:

"Who are you, anyhow? I will pull your nose and slap your face."

Other attorneys rushed between them and prevented any further trouble.

At the request of the attorneys for Schmitz and with the consent of Heney, the case was continued to January 21.

CRITICALLY ILL.

George W. Humphrey, of the furniture firm of Dean & Humphrey, is critically ill at Fabiola Hospital, suffering from a severe attack of Bright's disease.

MARRIES TO GAIN FREEDOM FROM JAIL

George Omerod, a prisoner at the city jail, but paroled by Governor Pardee, was married today in Chief of Police Wilson's office to Miss Annie Collins, sixteen years of age. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Quinn.

Miss Collins accused Omerod of a serious offense, and he agreed to follow her request and marry her. The arrangements for the wedding were made by the police.

A marriage license was secured by the girl's mother, Mrs. Johanna Crosby, having consented to Miss Collins' marriage.

Edward Smith, manager of the washing house in the nitro-glycerine plant at the Vigorit Powder Works at Point Isabel, near Berkeley, was killed in an explosion this morning. Five minutes before the explosion he was in the general office of the company, and it is presumed that during his absence the explosive became overheated and the explosion resulted. No one else was hurt. A number of Italians became panic stricken when the explosion occurred and rushed into the bay, where they were nearly drowned. They were rescued by employees of the works. Three thousand pounds of nitro-glycerine were destroyed. Smith's home was in Berkeley. He was married on Thanksgiving day.

BERKELEY, Jan. 10.—The separating room and wash house of the Vigorit Powder Works were blown into the bay this morning by a terrific explosion of two charges of glycerine amounting to about 3000 pounds. One man was killed, Edward Smith, aged 30 years, who lives on Hearst avenue in Berkeley, near Sacramento street. He was the only man in that building at the time, and not a vestige of him remains.

The superintendent, N. L. Nielsen, had a narrow escape, as he was headed for the separating room at the time of the explosion, and would have arrived within a few moments. The damage done amounted to about $7000, $6000 representing the value of the separating room and wash house and $1000 the damage to the other buildings of the works.

SHOCK IS BROKEN.

The slight damage to the rest of the works is explained by the fact that the buildings are all bulkheaded, so that it is very nearly impossible for the full shock of an explosion to travel beyond one building. The exact time of the explosion was 10:02 a. m.

NO OTHERS DEAD.

There were no other casualties. The shock of the explosion was felt in all parts of Berkeley and it was believed by some to be an earthquake.

Very little news of the explosion was given out for some time, as it was believed that Smith might be located before the rumor of his death reached his wife.

The officials of the company, however, have now given up all hope, and are quite certain that Smith was in the building at the time of the explosion.

O. Olson, foreman of the nitro-glycerine line, was in the separating room ten minutes before the explosion, and found nothing amiss.

A. Hansen, foreman of the dynamite-mixing plant, was in the separating room five minutes before the explosion, and he also found nothing wrong.

The company is not able to account in any way for the explosion, and its cause will probably forever remain a mystery.

OAKLAND IS TO HAVE A GREAT FIESTA IN MAY

Oakland is going to have one of the biggest shows ever held on the coast, beginning May 1. There will be a great floral parade; an electric celebration; tournaments and games; and a night in Venice on the lake, with fireworks. It is going to be a three days' celebration. Special trains will be run for hundreds of miles to bring the people to Oakland to see the show. It will eclipse anything of the kind ever held in the country. This fiesta will be so big and so grand that it will make the Los Angeles and Pasadena fiestas look like two spots. We have the flowers; we have the people, and we have the enterprise. In a few days the names of the committee of prominent citizens and bankers who will take charge of the big affair will be announced. The sign of $10,000 will be raised for the celebration.

"Last Note Against Divorce." "Labyrinth" a Powerful Play.

OLGA NETHERSOLE, as seen by Cartoonist Schad.

BY BETTY MARTIN.

"It is the last note sounded against divorce," said Olga Nethersole speaking of Paul Hervieu's powerful play, "The Labyrinth," given last evening at the Macdonough. "It shows that divorce is impossible where there are children."

Given this hint, without further knowledge, except the very general one regarding the French method of handling a subject without gloves, as it were, small wonder that cautious society dames and blasé fathers attended "The Labyrinth" without their budding daughters. The audience last night was hardly a typical one.

The attendance was more than good considering the weather, for there were few vacant seats, but the usual flow of silks and laces was lacking. Instead of smiles and gaiety, the faces of the listeners bore, for the most part, traces of experience and skillfully hidden masks of stars.

But there need have been no such precautions on the part of parents. I believe that it would do every young girl and every young man gifted with even a medium of brains, good to witness "The Labyrinth," even though they were able but partially to comprehend its complexities. Surely this play conveys one of the greatest messages of the stage.

Briefly the first act discloses Marianne, a divorced woman, and George le Breult, her suitor, pleading for her hand. Practically she has determined to marry Le Breult, who is a man of wealth and station. Before so doing, however, she consults her father and mother in regard to so important a step.

The mother, invincible in her religious beliefs and training, is horrified at the idea. In support of her convictions she quotes Holy Church and says "Whom God has joined together," at this Marianne interrupts with a scorn of passionate speech. Why should she, young and widowed with no home of her own, remain in such position with the future hopeless and loveless, stretching out in endless vista before her?

Besides, she adds, her son needs a father, a man's influence to mold his future years. Her mother insinuates that Max whom Marianne had divorced for infidelity, loves her still.

This idea, Marianne scornfully dismisses, saying that he has re-married, that such could not possibly be. Then, turning to her father, receives his conviction that she is about to pursue the right course.

His reply is a memorable one. "My child, I respect the law."

Act second is five years later. Max has been deprived by death of his second wife, whom he never cared for. He is lonely and heart-broken. Through the visits of his little son, certain hints are obtained of the influence upon the child's mind of Le Breult's training and ideas, which are radically opposed to those of Max.

Max seeks and obtains an interview with Marianne, with the result that Louis, their little son, is allowed to go on a visit to the father who has won his plea without recourse to the law, as he had threatened, should Marianne refuse to grant his request.

While there the child is stricken with diphtheria and Marianne is summoned to his bedside. Together the two, Max and Marianne, keep vigil through the watches of the night, and over the bedside of the boy, come to the knowledge that the old love is there, with the child as a strong tie, which binds them irrevocably together.

Marianne, discovering her feelings, is about to leave. Max insists upon an interview, wherein he desires to ask her forgiveness and pardon. Marianne refuses to grant it but Max, under false pretense, forces himself into her apartment after she has retired for the night. And it is in this scene, full of passionate words, remorse and awakening that Olga Nethersole rises to the heights of her greatness. In Mr. Frank Mills, who seems better adapted to the part of Max de Poge than any other in the house, she has a partner who has strong support.

For intensify this scene is rarely equalled. It tears at the very heart-strings of one who has loved and suffered. Its power lies in the dreadful reality that it simply life itself. That the two have loved and lost through common error, and still love, though separated by the bond which makes Marianne the wife of George le Breult.

At the end of this act the audience showed its appreciation by repeated applause, which were graciously responded to by the star and her support. Five times the curtain rose and fell, and the applause died away slowly.

Miss Nethersole's reception in Oakland has been a right royal one, and despite forever the old idea that Oaklanders are loth to patronize true talent.

The last act is easily to be foreseen. It is tragic in the extreme, and only the good taste of the principals rendered it from the melodramatic Olga has returned home, and contrived to George le Breult that, while she no longer loves him, she continues to have the greatest respect for him.

He, nobility itself, determines since she desires it, to free her, this after her solemn declaration that she will devote her life to the education of her little son, that she would die sooner than again allow herself to come under the influence of Max, with whom the law would not permit remarriage.

Max has followed Marianne, with the intention of persuading her to flee with him to another country, where they might reassume the sundered ties. There is a meeting between the two men, a struggle and the disappearance of both. Max de Poge and George le Breult into the river yawning below the bridge. The curtain falls with the stage in semi-darkness, and Marianne and Louis ignorant of the tragedy which has just occurred in contemplation of the child's tiny flower garden.

"The Labyrinth" is distinctly modern in thought. It is a natural outcome of the times. Divorce is one of the great questions of the day, and the world is ever ready to give aught to a subject so deep in appeal and so full of import to humanity.

In this play Miss Nethersole has opportunity to show the diversity of her acting. The part of Marianne is essentially different from the voluptuous Sappho or the unsavory, wilful and much-to-be-pitied Second Mrs. Tanqueray.

In Marianne we see a woman and a mother; a lady by birth and education, bound by and true to the conventions of society. And while it is true to say that every rule has its exception, the lesson conveyed by her experiences is that children are the strongest argument ever offered against the divorce evil.

The drama of last night but emphasized Olga Nethersole's artistic triumph in Oakland. Her interpretation of "Carmen" to be given this evening, will be awaited with interest.

SAYS VOTE FOR BONDS

Charles Mulford Robinson Says
We Need Public
Parks.

The following interesting letter has been received by Mayor Mott:

"Charles Mulford Robinson, A. M.,
Civil Engineer, Rochester, N. Y.
January 2, 1907.

"To the People of Oakland With great pleasure I have learned of the approaching bond election. The opportunity is to be given to you in this election to vote for a greater and more beautiful Oakland, for one that is better to live in, more attractive to strangers, and appealing more to the love and loyalty of your children, as well as to your own, because the city will thus be made more beautiful and pleasure-giving. I cannot doubt that you will authorize the issue, so recording yourselves on the side of progress and showing to the country that the growth of Oakland and its future are not regarded with doubt by her own citizens. There are however some points to which I wish to call your especial attention, and therefore I take the liberty of writing this letter.

"The plots of ground for the purchase of which you are asked to authorize the issue of bonds seem to be located at strategic points. The total acreage involved is nowhere near what I would wish nor what it really ought to be so far as I can determine from my maps of the chosen sites and their extent. But at least they make a good beginning. Many of them are plots which I myself named in making my report and their requirement and artistic development will do much to enhance the attractiveness of the city. Further, in the park requirement around Lake Merritt you will secure a very unusual and very charming pleasure ground and one of which the usefulness and extraordinary accessibility may well excite the envy of other cities. If you vote for the purchase of these tracts you may be sure that you will not be doing anything very big or very daring. You will be acting with excellent conservatism and doing about as little as you decently can do—for a city that does not want to appear and to be on the wane. I give you in my report some comparative figures in this connection.

"In the second place the purposes are not only exceedingly moderate, but they are a good business proposition. Such is the character present and prospective of the various takings that apart from the aesthetic gain to the city and the pleasure that will give their requirement for park purposes will so improve the value of adjacent and neighboring property that in the consequent rise in assessment values they will quickly pay for themselves. This is not a matter of theory, but of knowledge based on the results of such takings in other cities. A short time after these plots have been taken and improved you will find that they are at least paying their interest and sinking fund charges in cash, and I am pretty confident that they will be paying a good profit besides. You will have added with no net cost this much of beauty and pleasure giving quality to your home within the wide scattering of the projected requirements will bring benefit to every part of the city and such cutting as is at once involved is returned to your own taxpayers. The money that is to be paid for these lands will go to the citizens of Oakland and in large measure will probably be reimbursed by them in other Oakland real estate. If a million dollar sale of lots in your city were made tomorrow, would it not increase real estate values? Here is a million dollar sale to be made in which the proceeds as well as the benefit will go to Oakland people in which a considerable portion of the receipts is likely to be retained in other Oakland property and in which every lot is to be improved withdrawn forever from the market, and made forever an oasis of beauty. The city, as the largest property holder in Oakland is not going to lose by this action.

"Fourth if you believe in the future of Oakland you know that the lands can never again be secured at as low a price as now.

"Finally the $992,000 which it is proposed to expend amounts to about the beginning to only a few cents a year from each citizen of Oakland and each year will see the sum reduced as a portion of the bonds are paid. For little as it thus comes to, the actual purchase is not on a per capita basis, but those who have most property will get the bulk of the price of an annual stick of candy and he will never have other entrance fee to pay. The man who owns no land can get in for nothing. It is a great opportunity.

"I am sure that you will not regret my writing this letter. It is because I do believe in Oakland, and because in my short investigation of her possibilities so great an advance in her realization of them was awakened in me that I have addressed you.

CHARLES MULFORD ROBINSON.

SON ACCUSED BY MOTHER

PARIS, Jan. 10.—A case that is interesting husbands and dressmakers has been decided by the courts. A fashionable dressmaker demanded several thousand dollars for a series of gowns furnished to a woman in two months and suit the husband and wife to recover.

In its decision the court pointed out that even if the husband gives the wife authority to purchase toilettes it must be presumed that he intends to be reasonable. It rules that it is the duty of the dressmaker to inquire whether the orders given by the wife are in accordance with the purse and social status of the husband. The court refused the demand of the dressmaker to one-half.

The Grip.

"Before we can sympathize with others we must first suffer ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of grip unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip can be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy no case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by J. C. Chief of Police Wilson was upon the carpet of the grand jury room yesterday afternoon, but nothing could be earned of what transpired between him and the inquisitorial board of the star chamber. He spent a part of the afternoon in the jury room, and also for a while visited with Sheriff Barnett.

When the district attorney was asked concerning what the chief was being questioned about, he said he could not state, but that it was not concerning Chinatown. It was rumored about the courthouse that Wilson is being asked about the alleged police protection which the residents of the demimonde class are said to receive.

District Attorney Brown said that he gave instructions to the jury concerning the methods and systems of organizing and carrying on investigations.

GOSSIP FROM SACRAMENTO

What Pardee Thinks of the People of the River City.

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—"I am leaving one home for another home," said ex-Governor Pardee today to THE TRIBUNE correspondent, "because I tell you, the people of this city are hospitable, indeed I cannot say definitely when I shall return to Oakland, but it will be within a few days."

SALE OF GOLDEN EAGLE.
There is a rumor afloat that the Golden Eagle Hotel is about to change hands. Several prospective purchasers have looked over it lately, but it is not definitely known whether or not the sale has been perfected. The Golden Eagle Hotel, for more than a generation, has been the political headquarters at the capital of all the political circles in all the parties which have existed in this State in that time. There political jobs were put up, schemes hatched, good men rewarded, and not infrequently strong men crushed to earth, and all in the name of politics. For some time past politicians have been frequenting other hostilities here, though the Golden Eagle Hotel is said to be full all the time.

SENATOR LOSES $500.
Senator E. I. Wolfe of San Francisco mourns the loss of $500. He had the money in his pocket in a wallet in a back pocket. He had placed it there before leaving his apartment at the Golden Eagle Hotel on his way to the inaugural of Governor Gillett at the Clunie, at which he presided. He did not discover his loss until after the exercises. He does not know how the money disappeared.

PREPARES FOR INSURANCE WAR

R. B. Hunter Passes Day among Legislators—What Companies Want.

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—R. B. Hunter, who represented the insurance companies at the session of the legislature two years ago, was here today. He talked with some of the members, and it is not at all unlikely that when the insurance war comes up the same gentleman will be on hand to look out for the interests of insurers.

Some of the assemblymen say, as they understand the side of the insurers, that the companies do not oppose what is known as the standard policy. Local companies do not want an earthquake clause in the policy. That is, that do not want to have anything contained in it as to being against the earthquake clause or in favor of it.

Some foreign and some domestic companies, on the contrary, will insist on the insertion of such a clause. It is proposed to have a stamp in red characters run across the face of the policy in words to the effect that the policy in question contains the earthquake clause.

This feature, it is said, would settle the question between rival companies. Builds up the waste tissues of the kidneys. Lash's Kidney and Liver Purifiers.

REFUSES TO GIVE REPORTS

Deaf and Blind Institution—Will Not Recognize Charities Board.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—The management of the institution for the Deaf and Blind at Berkeley got into a controversy with the State Board of Charities and Corrections, declined to recognize its authority, refused to render reports and denied the right of the board to ask for them.

INSTITUTION LOSES.
The management of the institution lost on appeal to the attorney-general, a fact which is quietly set forth in the report of the State Board of Charities and Corrections just filed with the governor and transmitted to the legislature.

SEEKS AID IN A BILL.
At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed having for its ostensible object the removal of the institution from the supervision of the board in question. The removal, however, was to be accomplished by implication and not by specific enactment. Then followed the refusal of the principal to recognize the board.

BOARD'S THEORY.
Explaining the theory on which the board referred the matter to the attorney-general and won, the report in question says: "The contention is that the institution is not charitable, but educational. This is an institution that has for its object the education of the deaf and blind. To accomplish this purpose buildings are constructed, providing for housing and feeding these pupils. As long as this is done at State expense the institution must be charitable as well as educational. If this contention was to be accepted, then the Home for the Care and Training of Feeble-Minded Children and the Whittier State School could, with equal justice, claim to be educational, and not charitable institutions."

FIGHT OVER COLLEGE FARM

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—The committee on Dairies and Dairy Products of the Assembly has a peaceful pastoral name which would suggest anything but strife. But this year it will have to grapple with the strong influence behind the University of California at Berkeley.

McConnell, the chairman of the committee at the last session, comes from Yolo county, in which place the agricultural farm of the university of the state, which was recently purchased, is located.

YOLO WANTS APPROPRIATION.
Yolo county wants to reap the benefit of the state's interest in the farm and, for that purpose, elected McConnell, in the main, for the purpose of coming her and securing an appropriation to be expended on the farm, thus aiding in the enrichment of the county.

McConnell is an aspirant for the position of chairman of the committee on Dairies and Dairying at this session and, by securing the preferment, to influence the legislature in the granting of an appropriation for the development of the farm in question.

UNIVERSITY OPPOSES.
It was announced here, however, today, that friends of the University of California would use all the influence they could exert to defeat the Yolo aspiration. They said that such a grant would tend to dissipate the money of the university and that it would be frittered away without beneficial results.

They also declared it was against expressed wishes of President Wheeler, who desired that all appropriations for the university be made to that institution direct, as has been done in the past. The agricultural farm, they claimed, was a part of the College of Agriculture of the university, and whatever money was required for that college and the farm could be appropriated through the governing body of the university.

NO WORD FROM THE MISSING SHIP PONCE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—No news from the missing ship Ponce has been received. Reports of wireless messages from the Ponce are discredited by the fact that the steamer carried no wireless apparatus.

Twenty Year Battle.
"It was a loser in a twenty year battle with chronic piles and malignant cancer, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which turned the tide, by curing both, till not a trace remains," writes A. M. Bruce, of Farmville, Va. Best for old Ulcers, Cuts, Burns and Wounds. 25c at Osgood Brothers, druggists, Broadway, corner of Seventh and Washington, corner of Twelfth.

GENERAL LAUCK IS REAPPOINTED

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Governor Gillett today reappointed J. B. Lauck as adjutant-general of the State militia.

A Tragic Finish.
A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea Dyke, which child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIVER, of Vancouver, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish discovered it.

"Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold, but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life. Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at Osgood Brothers' drug store, Broadway, corner of Seventh and Washington, corner of Twelfth. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Well, a good many people have been in the habit of cutting a melon at New Year's but I don't think that muskmelons will appeal to them or any one else at Yuletide. You can get too much of a good thing, and we want to hold on to a few of the traditions. Ice cream goes all right, because we need something to temper the hot food and drinks of the cheerful season. ## Increase the Pay of Postal Employees. A Strong, Sane Message.

The report of Postmaster-General Hitchcock is the strongest possible argument in favor of increasing the pay of minor employees in the postal service, although it fails to touch upon the principle of justice, which cries aloud for more compensation for an over-worked and underpaid class of public servants. Mr. Hitchcock points out the fact that the resignations from the service are constantly increasing, the figures for last October showing that clerks were leaving the service at an annual rate of one in five, while the standard of men entering the service is constantly deteriorating. He might have added with equal truth that the most capable and trustworthy employees are abandoning the service because it offers them not only insufficient pay in the present, but holds out no hope for the future.

The report shows that in the first and second class offices in the last fiscal year there were approximately 20,000 clerks in the grades ranging from $600 to $1000, and of these clerks 2340, or about 12.3 per cent, resigned during the year. Of 23,000 letter carriers attached to these offices 601, or about 2.6 per cent, voluntarily left the service. Statistics for the quarter ended September 30 are even more striking. During the quarter, 929 clerks and 205 carriers resigned, while incomplete returns for October showed the resignation of 356 clerks and 81 carriers. From 12.3 per cent for the fiscal year the annual rate of resignation of clerks advanced to 18.5 per cent for the quarter ended September 30 and to 20.8 per cent for the month of October. In the case of carriers the annual rate of resignation, which was 2.6 for the fiscal year, rose to 3.5 for the quarter and to 4.1 per cent for October.

The Postmaster-General recommends the establishment of six grades of compensation, by classification, the annual salary to be $600 for the initial grade, $800 for the second, and for the four succeeding grades $900, $1000, $1100 and $1200 respectively; and of providing for the advancement of clerks and carriers in first-class offices from the $600 initial grade to $800 after one year's service, to $900 after two years' service, to $1000 after three years' service, and for the advancement of clerks and carriers in second-class offices to $800 after one year's service, to $900 after two years' service. The proposed plan leaves to the department the distribution of promotions, based on efficiency, above the $1000 grade in first-class offices and above the $900 grade in second-class offices, the extent of such promotions being limited, of course, by the appropriations provided.

While the proposed increases in pay will better the service and improve the condition of the postal employees, it is insufficient. The compensation provided is far below what a man can earn in private employment. Fancy a man having to undergo a civil service examination and provide himself with a uniform, and then have to work like a horse to earn $600 or $800 a year. Such rates of pay are a disgrace to a great nation. As a partial result of the niggardliness of the Government, there is congestion in every large post-office in the country, and an unusual amount of speculation among employees. And while the rates of pay are inadequate, the men are overworked. The excessive labor overtaxes endurance, while the scanty pay is a severe strain on fidelity and honesty. Thus the public service is sacrificed to a pinching, cheese-paring economy that is a reproach to our Government.

The new Governor of Colorado is a Methodist minister, and instead of having himself inaugurated in the State Capitol, he underwent the ceremony in a Methodist church. By doing so he unnecessarily and officiously obtruded his religious faith into the affairs of state. He should have taken the oath of office in the State Capitol, and not taken his administration, at the beginning of his term, into an edifice dedicated to sectarian worship. Governor Buchtel is probably a good man, and may be a wise one, but he has done a foolish thing. However, if he will keep the Methodist church out of the State Capitol, his partiality for Methodism as the road to salvation will provoke no complaint. Still, one can imagine what a roar would have gone up if some Governor should have had himself inaugurated in a Catholic church.

Fouling Their Own Nest.

An example of the way San Francisco has been injured by the San Francisco papers is furnished by the Chicago Tribune of December 16, which contains a cartoon depicting a crowd of contributors giving the crippled city alms, which a politician in the rear is stealing from her pocket. The following legend explains the picture: "The politicians of San Francisco have stolen nearly $1,000,000 of the relief fund." How does this sort of thing appeal to San Franciscans, who know that not a dollar of the relief fund has been stolen by the politicians or anybody else; that the politicians have never handled the relief fund, and that the men who have charge of the fund are not charged with squandering or stealing it, but with hoarding the money in the banks when more of it should have been expended for the purposes the contributors intended? However, the San Francisco papers have given it out to the world that the city officials have looted the relief fund, and it is now next to impossible to make people abroad believe the truth.

DOGS PACE A TURKISH TRAIN.

Ours was not a rapid train, and yet when compared with those of the Spanish railways it could not be called slow. In fact, it went as fast as a dog can run. I know this because I tried the experiment.

At one of the stations I fed a sleek-looking animal. As the train started he followed and I kept on feeding. The dog kept on running. His eyes were upon my window. Never once did he look to the ground, save when I threw a morsel of chicken or a bone, and even then he did not slacken his speed. With a slight movement his head would bend, there would be a snap, and if a bone or morsel was picked up, well and good; if not, he looked to me for further donations.

Every one on the train became interested in the race. From every window Turks held tempting morsels to entice the cur. Mile after mile, and still our companion kept pace. The engineer drew his head out of the car window and put on extra steam and the dog an extra spurt.

Ten miles further on we reached the next station and our dog was with us. Every one was delighted, and I have seldom seen a more enthusiastic and promiscuous reception given to any human being. After that it was the sport of every one to tempt the dogs of each station to run races with the train. At one time we had a line of dogs stretching out for miles behind.—Alexander Hume Ford in Ashton's Magazine.

Governor Gillett's inaugural message is an important document from several points of view. It is extremely conservative in tone—almost diffident from a rhetorical point of view—but it bristles with excellent suggestions that are worthy of examination. In the new executive's temperate discussion of public affairs, the Legislature will find many wise and useful hints to guide it in shaping the legislation of the session.

The incoming Governor discharges no fireworks in addressing the lawmakers, but talks plain business in a plain manner. He earnestly yet modestly impresses upon the Legislature the necessity for reforming the revenue system of the State, improving the port facilities at San Francisco, amending the insurance laws, providing for a better system of highways, the passage of an act to supplement the pure food laws enacted at the recent session of Congress, the enactment of laws to correct corporate abuses and regulate transportation charges and the abolition of useless and expensive commissions. While he does not recommend outright the passage of a direct primary law, he urges the Legislature to take the matter up and deal with it in the way that will best serve the public interests, as judgment may direct.

The Governor recommends the passage of insurance laws that will fully protect the insured without destroying the insurance business, or driving it from the State. He argues that insurance rightly conducted is a legitimate business, and a necessary one, and he desires to bring it under such legal responsibility as will protect the public without materially increasing rates or depriving the business interests of California of the protection afforded by honest and legitimate insurance.

On the subject of revenue revision he is direct and practical. He believes that agriculture is unduly burdened by taxation under our present system, and urges that State and local taxation be separated, and that the former derive its revenue from sources other than a direct levy on real and personal property. He says:

"This system is not an untried one, as it is now in vogue in several of the States, where it has proved to be successful. It is the most modern method in use and the most just. The State, under this system, could derive its revenues, in addition to those collected from present sources, by levying a tax upon the gross earnings of railroads, street railroads, express companies, car companies, light, heat and power companies, telegraph and telephone companies, on the shares of the capital stock of banks and upon corporate franchises."

This reads rather queerly beside the vicious attacks made, on the Governor during the campaign, and fully vindicates his assertion that he was entirely independent of corporation control. His remarks concerning transportation charges and insurance legislation are equally independent in tone. All through the message there runs a note of sound common sense that rings of sincerity and an intention to serve the people faithfully. Unless we mistake the man and his purposes, he will make one of the best Governors California has ever had.

Time may be money, but it is a sad fact that one has to work like blazes to collect interest on it.

CONTROL OF POPULAR EDUCATION.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: It seems that an impartial view of the Japanese school question would present itself as follows:

The State government and the Federal government are each supreme in their own proper spheres; that is, if a certain power be granted the Federal government by the Constitution, it and it alone can exercise such power, as, for instance, the right to coin money. Similarly, a power given to the State government can be exercised in any way they see fit. Neither the Federal government or a State government is subordinate to the other in such matters.

According to amendment No. 10, "powers not delegated to the United States nor prohibited to the States, are reserved to the States or to the people." The control of education is one of such "powers." As the people have never exercised their power by conferring on the Federal government this control of education (by amending the constitution) it is still the exclusive right of the respective State governments.

Now what would be the legality of a treaty with Japan which definitely stated (which the present one does not) that "Japanese should be allowed to attend the same schools as the white children?" We know that all treaties made under the authority of the United States shall be the supreme law of the land, but since the States have supreme power in the matter of education no treaty relating to education can be made "under the authority of the United States." Thus such a treaty would be invalid and only an amendment to the Constitution conferring on the Federal government and prohibiting to the States the control of education would legalize it. E. H.

GREETINGS.

They go like balm from Heav'n-anointed hands,
And come like incense on the zephyr's wing;
A soothing sweetness for the Christian lands,
Which thrill with rapture while the chimes now ring.

So let our greetings reach the very ends
Of Earth; they light the haggard brow of Time.
Oh! wherefore roam our unforgotten friends
Who make our flitting years and lives sublime?

We live to hope, but let us hope and live;
'Twere well for me—I name the World a Friend,
And call I Nature Parent, whom I give
But greetings, then with pleasure let them blend.

Then let us pour our greetings forth, the years
Will echo their refrain—eyes that are dim
And lips long mute, which memory endears,
May beam and speak again on Heaven's rim.

And if beyond the world our greetings go,
To reach the Unknown and the Infinite,
With lavish hand our offerings we bestow,
And Past and Present will a while unite!

PIANOLAS AND PIANOLA--PIANOS

Don't forget this important fact---that there is only one PIANOLA and that one is made by the largest musical instrument manufacturing company in the world, namely the Aeolian Company, of New York.

It has a capital of ten million and controls nearly a score of factories turning out a finished product as faultless and perfect as the world's most skillful artisans can achieve. When the Company gave to the musical world the PIANOLO it was supposed man's ingenuity could go no farther; but first the Metrostyle, and now the Thermoidist have been added, making the PIANOLA almost human in its interpretation of the works of the great masters.

Again, don't forget that there is only one PIANOLA recognized the world over as a genuine player, above and beyond all imitations; and don't forget that the sole agents here are

NEVER TIRES

Of the Food That Restored Her to Health.

"My food was killing me, and I didn't know the cause," writes a Colorado young lady. "For two years I was thin and sickly, suffering from indigestion and inflammatory rheumatism.

"I had tried different kinds of diet, plain living, and many of the remedies recommended, but got no better.

"Finally, about five weeks ago,

mother suggested that I try Grape-

Nuts, and I began at once, eating it with a little cream or milk. A change for the better began at once.

"Today I am well and am gaining weight and strength all the time. I've gained 10 pounds in the last five weeks and do not suffer any more from indigestion and the rheumatism is all gone.

"I know it is to Grape Nuts alone that I owe my restored health. I still eat the food twice a day and never tire of it." Name given by Postum

Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The flavor of Grape-Nuts is peculiar to itself. It is neutral, not too sweet and has an agreeable, healthful quality that never grows tiresome.

One of the sources of rheumatism is from overloading the system with acid material, the result of imperfect digestion and assimilation.

As soon as improper food is abandoned and Grape-Nuts is taken regularly, digestion is made strong, the organs do their work of building up good red blood cells and of carrying away the excess of disease-making material from the system.

The result is a certain and steady return to normal health and mental activity. "There's a reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Eighth avenue.

After the discussion of carefully prepared papers read by Mrs. Willard

Cutler and Mrs. Stuart Merrill, a jolly hour was spent over the tea cups. Mrs. Gutches will be hostess at next week's session.

GARD CLUB.

Mrs. Jack Jamieson was hostess this week at a meeting of the Tuesday card club, which meets fortnightly for an informal game. Those who enjoyed the afternoon were Mrs. Harry Huber,

WIFE GIVES HER HUSBAND TO YOUNG GIRL FRIEND

The voluntary gift of her husband to a young girl that she might marry another man, is the strange and novel procedure of Mrs. Raffaele Sposato, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., according to a story told local police this morning by Deputy Sheriff William J. Doyle and Detective A. C. Emver, of Vernon who have arrived here to take Sposato and Josephine Carlo back to their home where the man is accused of stealing the girl.

It is said that Mrs. Sposato, her husband Manuel Genise, and Miss Carlo planned a novel transference of affection, as well as of a husband. Mrs. Sposato loved Genise and her husband believed that his affinity was Miss Carlo. It took but a short time for the four to arrange a settlement which was mutual to themselves. Sposato left his wife in Mount Vernon and eloped to California with Miss Carlo, who is but seventeen years of age. The father of the young girl was not told of the agreement, as he frowned upon Sposato's attentions to his daughter. As soon as the girl left her home with Sposato a warrant was issued for the man charging him with child stealing. It was learned by local police authorities that the couple were living in this city as man and wife although not married.

Local police were asked to apprehend Sposato and Miss Carlo and detain them until officers could be sent to return them to Mount Vernon. This was done and the couple has been in jail for some time.

Miss Carlo admits that she was a party to the agreement entered into by Sposato and his wife Manuel Genise and herself. I asked Mrs. Sposato if it would be all right if her husband went with me and she told me it would," said the young girl this morning.

Requisition papers are being prepared and the young couple will soon be on their way to Mount Vernon, Sposato to face a felony charge and Miss Carlo her parents.

NEVADA MINING MEN MEET STOCK AND BOND BROKERS

The most enthusiastic session of the Oakland Stock and Bond Exchange since its inception took place last evening when the floor was filled with local brokers interspersed with Goldfield and Manhattan mining men. Several visiting brokers were given the privilege of bidding at the exchange, and a large amount of trading was indulged in, the sales aggregating over $150,000, mostly in the Diamondfield district.

The evening sessions of the local exchange are gradually setting the price for the morning sales of the San Francisco exchange as the Oakland office has a direct wire to Goldfield which they are in constant touch with.

Following the exciting session the officers held an executive meeting at which the price of seats was raised from $200 to $300 and two additional members were received. From present indications the Oakland exchange bids fair to equal the exciting times so often recorded in the San Francisco pit. Many visitors were present outside of the floor last evening, among them being a number of ladies.

This morning's session of the exchange proved equally interesting, over $80,000 being the aggregate of sales made.

IN SAN FRANCISCO
SAN FRANCISCO Jan. 10.—There was great excitement at the morning session of the San Francisco stock and bond board today caused by the bull raid on the Nevada mining stocks. A number of the brokers who had been selling the stocks short were caught in the raid and for more than an hour there was frantic buying in the effort to avoid a squeeze. Among the stocks which figured in the advance were Blue Bull, which sold at 62, an advance of 10 points over the previous day's closing. The demand much larger than the supply. Silver Pick advanced 15 points over yesterday's closing, selling at 115. Oro at 85 and 6 points over yesterday's closing. Atlantic which sold yesterday at 85 was in great demand and there was a wild scramble for this morning at 95. Great Bend was likewise very strong selling at 146 the price yesterday being 112. An interesting feature of the session was the presence of a number of women who directed their representatives to Goldfield and the amount of stock today, prices and sold at 35 cents above par and many brokers believe this will carry Mohawk to 25 as the stocks are linked together in the merger.

ROMANCE OF A WILL

How Psychic Power Brought Fortune and Happiness to One Woman.

"I can remember things that happened when I was only two years old," said the little girl.

"Huh, that's nothing," said the little boy. "I can remember before I was born. I was sitting in the corner crying for fear I would be a girl."

The story is as old as the hills, and the strength of haunting masculinity has to a large extent succumbed to the queenship of the eternal feminine as the years have rolled on.

At that time psychic phenomena were little known and less understood. We know better now, and the boast of the little boy that he could remember before he was born has become a crude interpretation of an acknowledged fact.

By way of illustration, it may be cited that time and distance cut no figure as obstacles in the revelations of M. A. Mansfield, America's leading exponent of psychic phenomena. Light traveling at the rate of 186,000 miles a second moves slowly in comparison with the human mind, which in a fraction of the same length of time transports thought to the uttermost limit of space.

It is true that this remarkable faculty differs among different persons according to the degree in which psychic sense and power are developed.

There are natural laws behind everything that actually happens, and the fact that this truth has been misused by unscrupulous and designing persons does not and cannot alter the case.

To the person possessed of real psychic power developed as it is developed in Mr. Mansfield that which is past and that which is to come are the same in the sense of being intelligible and understood.

For instance it is related that M. A. Mansfield, of 526 Ninth street, has been able to put himself back fifty years before he was born and describe with fidelity and accuracy places he had never seen or heard of.

This has happened many times in the case of persons who were being given a reading by Mansfield and who wished to test his powers in matters known to them alone.

In one instance an elderly woman asked Mansfield to describe the place in which she was born.

The successful psychic described the place with marvelous accuracy—it was a farm homestead in New England. The client professed herself as being entirely satisfied when Mansfield exclaimed:

"Wait! I see a tall old gentleman going into the library. He has a paper in his hand. He is approaching an old-fashioned secretary. He opens a drawer which seems to have another drawer or compartment inside. In the second drawer he places the paper, examining it carefully and replacing the articles in the first drawer so that it appears as if nothing had been disturbed."

"Then he goes out of the room nodding his head to himself in a satisfied manner. He—"

"The paper the paper!" exclaimed the client, with an extremely agitated manner.

"I am impressed that the paper is a will," replied the successful psychic. "The heading reads 'The last will and—'"

"It is my father's will," cried the client, "It is my father's will and it will give my sister and myself the property which rightfully belongs to us. I have the secretary now, at my home. And, oh, I was going to send it to a second-hand dealer this very week!"

Results proved the accuracy of the psychic diagnosis. The will was found exactly as Mansfield had described the circumstances.

The document restored a large amount of property to the client and her sister. It appears that the old gentleman had married a second time late in life, a woman whose sole care as it afterwards developed was to gain possession of the old man's property.

At the time of his second marriage he had made a will giving all of his property to the new wife.

In a short time the old man was disillusioned. He became reconciled to his daughters from whom he had become estranged because of his marriage and shortly afterwards told them that he had made a new will giving them a large share of his property.

In less than a year after the reconciliation the old man died. Although careful search was made for the second will it had never been found and the second wife gained possession of the entire property under the terms of the will made at the time of her marriage.

She had allowed the sisters to retain possession of several pieces of household furniture which were heirlooms in the family and among them was the secretary in which Mansfield had by virtue of his marvelous powers seen the old man deposit the document which proved to be in truth his last will and testament.

The client sent the will back east to her lawyer and after a somewhat protracted struggle the second wife was forced to comply with its terms and divide the property with the two daughters.

The story reads like an old-fashioned romance of the New York Ledger kind but there was something more than mere romance in the substantial check which the grateful client, without solicitation or reminder, sent to Mansfield as a token of her appreciation.

The explanation? Let those explain it who can. On some tablet of the past, intangible to the ordinary mind, but still a tablet, enduring and permanent, the episode of the will was written.

Mansfield, through his marvelous psychic power, discovered that tablet by placing himself in rapport with his client, whose fortunes and destiny were so closely connected with it.

The client had no psychic power, else she had it and could not control it in any beneficial way. Had she not gone to Mansfield, the will never would have been discovered, and the client would have been compelled to live out her life in comparative poverty.

"I always felt sure that father had made a new will," wrote the client, because he was a very methodical man; what he said he would do he usually did. And yet with all our confidence we were unable to solve the riddle. Often I would rack my brain in an endeavor to think out the solution of the mystery, but it was always a black impenetrable veil before me.

I cannot express my gratitude in words, and I shall always be a believer in psychic power and in the ability of those who possess it to disclose both the secrets of the past and the mysteries of the future."

Mansfield's powers are applied to the future as well as to the past. By placing himself in harmony with a client he is able to forecast the things which will happen to them and to those holding relationship to them. He is also able to forecast impending dangers, so that his clients being forewarned are able to arm themselves against them.

Pages might be filled with the good results accruing from the exercise of Mansfield's wonderful powers.

In many instances the beneficiaries have discredited the claims for this remarkable psychic, whose fame is as wide as the continent, only to be more than convinced by the revelations made to them. Honest doubt is not to be scoffed at any more than honest belief, nevertheless it is a psychic axiom that the best results are secured when there is complete harmony between the psychic and the person to whom the reading is given.

His fees are absurdly low when the benefits received are taken into consideration. All confidences are held sacred and inviolate.

KILLS TEACHER, QUICK DEATH FOR PIONEER ENDS OWN LIFE

RIGBY, Idaho, Jan. 10.—Miss Irene Miller, a teacher in the Rigby public schools was shot and killed late last night by Prof. I. F. Couch, principal of the school who immediately afterwards committed suicide by sending a bullet into his own brain.

Prof. Couch was a Missourian who recently came to Idaho. The association of the two teachers in the local schools resulted in an engagement, but Miss Miller's parents objected and when she returned from Salt Lake City after the Christmas holidays she had decided to break the engagement.

SCALDED BY BOILING MILK

While examining the contents of a can of boiling milk, the top blew off and the scalding fluid fearfully burned D. Berendtsen, twenty-eight years old of 758 East Fourteenth street and Chris Trechovitch, aged twenty-three, residing at 1206 Seventh street two of the kitchen help in the Optimo restaurant last night. The house full of people came near rushing out in a panic when the cries from the kitchen rang out with the agony of the victims. There were about eighty people eating in the dining-room at the time of the accident, and when the kitchen help dashed out into their midst to escape the boiling stream, everybody started to make for the door at the same time. Order finally reigned and tender hands tried to soothe the injured men until they could be taken to the receiving hospital. They were rolled in table cloths and flour was thrown on the burns. Both men were scalded about the face hands and body with first-degree burns which were dressed by Steward Borchert. Later they were removed to the Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Irwin will look after their injuries.

Strange Infatuation for Beautiful Ward Brings Paris Metal Expert to the Asylum.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—A strange tragedy in real life is recorded here. So dramatic are the circumstances that they fall naturally into three acts, of which the first is as follows:

M. Verdouille is the managing proprietor of important metallurgical works in the Plaisance quarter, Paris. He is a bachelor and had engaged as chief cashier and bookkeeper a widow name Mme. Ducloux, who had an only child, Beatrice, a girl of 19 years. Verdouille took a fatherly fancy to Mme. Ducloux's daughter and had her trained in a commercial institute with a view to making her assistant bookkeeper to the firm.

In the second act Beatrice has grown into a beautiful young woman of 20. She assists her mother in the cashier's office. But one day about six months ago Mme. Ducloux died suddenly in the office from heart disease. Beatrice thinks that Verdouille will give her the post of chief cashier and has secret hopes of marrying Jean Deplet, a young traveler in the same firm, who loves her and is loved.

BECOMES INFATUATED.

But Verdouille, now an elderly bachelor, had gone on taking such interest in Beatrice that his fancy has ripened into strong affection for the beautiful young woman. He determines to adopt her as his daughter, and tells her so. She is overjoyed at such good fortune, for Verdouille is wealthy and she thus becomes his heiress. Verdouille withdrew her from the office, placed her at the head of his private house and began to take the necessary legal steps to adopt her.

One day Verdouille hears from a friend a story that unnerves him. It appears that Beatrice was in the habit twice weekly of visiting her mother's tomb, and afterward, in one of the cemetery groves, meeting a young man, Verdouille, who is really infatuated, resolves to watch. He sees Beatrice kneel by the tomb and afterward meet a man, who is none other than Jean Deplet, his traveler. In jealous rage Verdouille rushes up and drags away the weeping girl, afterward discharging Deplet from his employ. Beatrice confesses that she loves Deplet, but Verdouille is obdurate, whereupon Beatrice leaves her adopted father's house, he vainly applying to the police to stop her. The police are powerless to interfere, as the adoption formalities are not completed. Beatrice goes straight to her lover.

REDUCED TO POVERTY.

The third act. Beatrice has found employment at $5 a week as a bookkeeper, but Deplet, owing to Verdouille's replies to all inquiries about his character, is unable to find employment. The lovers share their slender means until they can afford to marry. Beatrice is expecting to become a mother. This means loss of employment, misery and semi-starvation. Deplet thinks that the recital of Beatrice's hardships may soften Verdouille's heart and determines to see him. He learns that Verdouille has been neglecting business and is more frequently found at a cafe in the Rue Didot than at the works.

Deplet goes there and finds Verdouille mixing with trembling hands an absinthe. No sooner does he see Deplet than he lifts the heavy ice-water carafe, throws it full in Deplet's face and rushes at him screaming like a maniac. Deplet, his face covered with blood, has fallen. Verdouille tries to throttle him and resists attempts to pull him off with the strength of a demon.

It has been discovered that Verdouille has lost his reason, and he has been removed to an asylum. Deplet, in the deepest despair, was conducted to the nearest chemist's to have his wounds dressed.

Grapes are much in evidence now upon the new hats and most luscious color effects are obtained in them, for they shade through many of the fashionable colorings and are particularly effective in the browns, purples, blues, grays and greens. Golden yellow, white grays and greens. Golden yellow, white and purple grapes are often combined with flowers or plumes.

This picture shows Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, wife of Millionaire J. G. Phelps Stokes, in her study. Since their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Stokes have lived in a cheap flat in the midst of the New York Ghetto where they have been much interested in settlement work. They have just announced their intention of going to live in a cheap hut about an hour's ride out on Long Island. Mrs. Stokes announces: "We are going to use the money we shall save by living outside New York in our life work of helping the masses."

FATHER PLEADS AT THE DOOR TO SEE HIS CHILD

Wife Refuses to Allow Patrolman of the City of New York to Visit His Little Son.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—While Patrolman Mead, of the Traffic Squad, passionately begged his wife to unlock the door of her home at No. 307 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, and permit him to enter and see their son, Mrs. Mead steadfastly refused to unlock the door.

Le Roy Mead Jr., spent the merriest kind of a Christmas. The boy, who is four years old, was taken from his grandmother's home, where the father had placed him, by a policeman, late Christmas eve, and delivered to the mother.

Le Roy's parents have parted and Mrs. Mead has brought suit for a logal separation. A court order gave custody of their three children to her. The father found Le Roy on the street and took him to his grandmother's home, at No. 128 West One Hundred and Thirty-seventh street.

The mother appealed to Deputy Police Commissioner Mathot, who detailed the policeman to recover the child.

Mrs. Mead refused to unlock the door for her husband when he stood outside and promised he would not harm the child or attempt to take him away. All day long the door was not opened before those inside were assured that the visitor was not the father.

WOMAN 80 YEARS OLD IS ARRESTED AS MOONSHINER

Was About to Slay Officers When Overpowered and Disarmed—Liquor Found in Cabin.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Melinda Shrewsbury, 80 years old, a widow, who lives with her sons in the heart of the forest of Fayette county, West Virginia, has been arrested for moonshining. She is said to have been violating the United States revenue laws for many years. When Deputy Marshal Daniel Cunningham found her place and demanded that she surrender she was alone and reached for a rifle. She had her finger on the trigger and would have shot him had he not executed a flank movement and approaching from a different angle disarmed her. She refused to tell who her confederates are.

He bound and gagged her and sat down to wait for her assistants. After several hours somebody called from up the mountain. It was a signal, and the old woman lying on a bed, struggled to answer and warn her sons of the danger. Cunningham waited all night, but nobody came, the young man evidently suspecting something was wrong when they got no reply.

So the deputy took his aged prisoner to the nearest railroad station through one of the wildest sections of West Virginia.

He had searched the cabin, finding many barrels of whiskey. The still was located about three hundred yards from the house in a small cove, and the odor of sour mash could be detected yards away.

Under a hearthstone in the cabin he found a tin box containing $760 and in an old cupboard a bank book showing deposits of more than $11,000. This sum the old woman was said to have accumulated by sending her sons over the country to "bootleg."

WIGS FALL FROM HEAD; CAUSE ARREST OF GIRL

Worn Over Black Hair, Blond Tresses Puzzle Detective Until Pin Gives Way.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Mary had four little dolls' wigs when the police arrested her. Mary's name is Kubinski. Her permanent address is 13 Noble street. When House Detective Evans of a State street store first perceived her she was progressing slowly through the toy department.

The first thing that Evans noticed about Mary was her jet black hair. The second thing he noticed was that she was unobtrusively converting dolls' hairpins and other portions of the stock to her own use. She had as many presents on her as a Christmas tree. When the detective stepped forward to arrest her she vanished into a dressing room.

Evans decided to wait till she came out. Soon there appeared a young woman wearing clothes like Mary's but having nice light tresses like spun gold, as the poet says.

"I beg your pardon," said Evans, "but when did you change your hair?"

"Sir?" said Mary in a voice the temperature of which was twenty degrees below freezing.

She might have convinced Evans that he was color blind if fate and a bad hairpin had not intervened. But a little blonde doll's wig fell off Mary's head. Then another and another and another. There stood Mary wearing her own hair. There on the floor were four little blonde dolls' wigs.

Mary's disguise had failed her at the crucial moment. A few minutes later she was in a cell at the Harrison street police station, charged with shoplifting.

WOMAN TRAMP HELPED MAN COMMIT ROBBERIES

Confesses to Guilt in Twelve Burglaries, in Which $50,000 in Plunder Was Taken.

PELHAM, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Hidden on the rear porch of Joseph W. White's home in Pelham Heights, where she was waiting for her accomplice, Mary Brown, alias Mary Cook, West Chester county's first female burglar was arrested.

According to the confession made to Chief of Police Marks the prisoner admits taking part in twelve Mount Vernon robberies within two weeks and sharing in at least $50,000 worth of plunder, although she appeared to be a pauper when taken into custody. The way in which the woman and her accomplice operated is unique and has proved extremely profitable not only in West Chester county, but in Brooklyn and in the wealthy towns through Long Island.

Mary says that her duty was to play the part of a woman tramp, locate the likely houses during the day and return at night with her male helper,

Entrance was always gained through a rear window, the man going into the house while she waited at the opening to receive the booty, which she hid in a drop skirt.

After obtaining booty enough Mary always walked into New York, followed by her accomplice. Mary wore the oldest clothes she could get and had her head wrapped in a shawl. When accosted by a policeman she posed as a homeless woman walking to a friend's home in New York. On one occasion, she says, when she was stopped by a Brooklyn policeman she begged a quarter from him.

The prisoner says that the valuables stolen in Mount Vernon and vicinity are in pawnshops in Manhattan and she is willing to tell all if clemency is promised. Chief Marks thinks the woman can explain at least 100 West Chester robberies, in which an aggregate of $50,000 was stolen.

DRAGS HERSELF TO THE PHONE AND SAVES FAMILY

Almost Overcome by Coal Gas Philadelphia Woman Summons Help in Nick of Time.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—That the six members of the household of Harry Hudson Smith, 1712 Pine street, who were overcome by coal gas, are alive is due to the presence of mind of Mrs. Smith. Dr. Horace Williams and a trained nurse also owe their lives to Mrs. Smith.

Dr. Williams and the nurse had been working over the unconscious members of the family for two hours, when they, too, were overcome by the fumes. It was the doctor's idea that the Smiths were suffering from ptomaine poisoning, and he was working on that basis, when he dropped in a faint, the nurse lapsing into unconsciousness immediately afterward.

Mrs. Smith knew then that it must be something in the atmosphere that was affecting everybody in the house. She could feel the deadly spell coming over herself—a sort of languor that was gradually sapping away her strength.

She started for the telephone to call up her sister, Mrs. Rodger S. Barstow. It was a short journey—only a few feet—but she had to summon all her strength to make it. Gritting her teeth and fighting off the faintness by sheer will power, she succeeded in getting her sister.

"Come over here at once," she gasped. "Something is wrong. We are all getting unconscious. Bring a doctor."

That was all she could say and the receiver dropped from her nerveless hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Barstow jumped into a cab in front of their apartments at the Clinton, and hastened to the Smith residence. When they arrived there no one within was able to open the front door. Realizing that prompt action was necessary, Mr. Barstow broke in the back door and telephoned Dr. Alfred Hand, Dr. B. S. Stahl and Dr. John B. Shober.

The three physicians diagnosed the trouble as coal gas poisoning, and hurried four of the victims to the Pennsylvania Hospital. Mrs. Smith and her two little daughters were taken to Mrs. Barstow's apartments at the Clinton, where it was reported they are doing well.

It is believed that the gas had been accumulating in the house for some time. Being light it rose to the ceiling, and was not especially noticeable to the inmates until the rooms became well filled. On Christmas the fire was kept unusually hot, and as it was a holiday the daily airing of the house was largely dispensed with. This made it possible for the gas to accumulate very rapidly. Workmen were overhauling the furnace, yesterday, and they found the chambers clogged, which forced the gas out into the cellar.

Man's ingenuity is being exerted constantly to create something new to catch the eye of woman, and one novelty on this market is making women of limited means envious of their more fortunate sisters who may indulge in such things without a straining of purse strings. As if it were not a great enough expense to keep a supply of plain long gloves on hand, the newest hand coverings are peek-a-boo gloves. They are made of the regulation elbow length, with the backs of the arms and hands unbordered with eyelet embroidery. The pink skin showing through the little holes is charming to view, but, alas, the women who wear the gloves must pay the price of being even more "A" and uncomfortable than with ordinary long gloves.

A Handy Soap Dish (By C. M. Cornell, Harding, S. D.)—A handy soap dish can be made by punching fifteen or twenty holes in the bottom of a tin quart cup in such a way that the suds will not drain out when cup is hung up. Keep cup hung on a nail by the kitchen sink, and pour water through it for dish washing, etc., thus saving time and inconvenience and soap.

Smooth Flatrons. (By Miss Jessie R. Lewis, Mohawk, New York.)—Lard (unsalted) is better than beeswax to make flatrons slip easily. Fold a cloth several thicknesses, put a lump of lard the size of a walnut within the folds and rub the iron over it. Same cloth will last many weeks by folding clean side out and adding more lard when needed.

WRONG GIRL HUGGED; JOKE?

Young Woman's Jest Reacts on Her Friend.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A broken heart and trouble spread all the way from Caldwell, N. J., to Buffalo and back, where the harrowing consequences of Miss Rose Galsch's practical joke with a matrimonial want "ad."

Rose lives in Caldwell, and being romantic as well as fun-loving, she subscribes to one of those matrimonial publications designed to foster the anti-race suicide idea by introducing love-lorn hearts through types, ink and the United States mails.

Her dearest friend is Sophie Ellis. Sophie gave Rose her picture for a Christmas present, and as the matrimonial paper happened to come in by the same mail the girl put both together and concocted a real funny joke. Henry Dominyl of Buffalo was one of the advertisers looking for a wife. Rose, it is said, answered his "ad," signing Sophie's name and enclosing the photograph in the letter.

GIRL SURPRISED BY SUITOR.

Dominyl liked the photograph and the letter so well that he took the next train for Caldwell, and, arriving Saturday, hurried to the Ellis home with the girl's picture clutched in his hand. Miss Sophie answered the door bell in person and was horrified when the strange visitor, avowing his love without a moment's delay, seized her in his arms and kissed her again and again.

When Miss Ellis was able to break away from the want "ad" suitor she ordered him out of the house, but he wouldn't go.

"Darling," he said, "get on your things and we will go at once to Buffalo."

"You shall not take me to Buffalo," was the girl's indignant response. "I don't know you and don't want to, and as for Buffalo—never! Leave the house at once!"

Dominyl tried to explain, but even when he was told that he was the victim of a cruel practical joke he wouldn't go away.

BREAKS DOWN IN COURT.

In desperation, Miss Ellis promised to marry him at a nearby minister's

SAYS HER STEPMOTHER STABBED HER IN EYE

Seriously Wounded Fifteen-Year-Old Child Appears in Harlem Court Against Woman.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—With a cut an inch long and three-quarters of an inch deep under her eye, Katie Grossman, fifteen years old, was in Harlem court as complainant against her stepmother, Mrs. Adella Grossman of 206 East Ninety-eighth street.

The child was taken to court by her aunt, who lives at No. 220 in the same street.

At No. 206 the Grossman keep a small confectionery store. The child acted as clerk and errand girl. She told the court that her stepmother beat her day after day and searched her clothing for pennies she might have earned. She said one day she earned thirty-five cents, and kept it to buy her father a Christmas present.

The father was in the hospital at the time, but came home recently. On Monday night, she said, her stepmother discovered the money and in her rage stabbed her with a pair of scissors under the eye. She fled to her aunt, who forced the stepmother to give up the good clothes she was keeping from the little girl.

Mrs. Grossman was arrested and brought to court. When she arrived in custody of Detectives Thompson and O'Brien, Magistrate Barlow, who had closed court for the day, paroled her until today, when she will receive a hearing. The child remains with her aunt.

The father, who had been in a hospital for several weeks, returned home to find his wife charged with stabbing his little daughter, who is said to be his favorite child.

CHAIN OF FOUR BOYS AND THREE GIRLS SAVES LIFE

It Stretches to Air Hole in Ice Where Youth Is Struggling Vainly to Escape.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—It was due to the promptness of Henry de Vito, aged seventeen, and his boy and girl companions, of Richfield, N. J., that Frank Crawford, who is just De Vito's age, did not pay for his foolhardiness with his life when he went skating in the "canal boat basin" of the Morris Canal, near Richfield.

Several persons have lost their lives at that point, which is the deepest part of the canal, and Crawford had been repeatedly warned not to go there.

But he persisted, and while cutting a fancy figure he backed into an air hole and the ice broke all around him. De Vito and his companions, who were skating some distance away, hurried up, and De Vito at once arranged a human chain of four boys and three girls, with himself as the first link.

Just as De Vito was about to grasp Crawford, the edge of the ice where he was clinging broke and he went down again. When he reappeared De Vito grasped him by the shoulders and the human chain moved slowly backward over the cracking ice until Crawford was drawn to safety. He was hurried to a farmhouse and put to bed.

at once he pressed the picture to his lips and went away crying as though his heart would break.

When Miss Galsch learned of the trouble she had caused her friend through her practical joking she disappeared from her home and has not been seen since.

RECORD YEAR FOR BURIALS

Oakland's Increased Population Brings Increased Death Rate.

At the annual meeting of the Mount View Cemetery Association held yesterday afternoon, the following gentlemen were elected to succeed themselves on the board of trustees: H. A. Powell, George C. Edwards, George C. Pardee, E. M. Hall, Jr. The other eight trustees, who hold over, are: Joseph S. Emery, M. C. Mason, George E. Grant, Jr., J. W. Phillips, George C. Hawley, C. H. Redington, Edson F. Adams and Charles W. Kellogg.

The report of Superintendent A. D. Smith showed that many improvements had been made during the past year. The report in part is as follows:

To the President, Board of Trustees and Lot Owners of Mount View Cemetery Association:

During the year 1906 there were 1335 interments within the grounds (including twenty-seven burials in the Jewish cemetery). This has been the record year in the number of interments. Heretofore the largest number buried in any year was 1196 in 1902. The total number of interments (not including those in the Jewish cemetery) from the opening of the cemetery to the first instant is 25,412.

The burials, by months, were as follows:

January ..... 97
February ..... 88
March ..... 111
April ..... 122
May ..... 106
June ..... 104
July ..... 100
August ..... 100
September ..... 100
October ..... 100
November ..... 100
December ..... 100

It will be noticed that the death rate advanced immediately after the earthquake of April 18. Such advance is attributable to the great increase in the population of Oakland and vicinity, following the disaster.

The monthly average of burials during the year was 11.25. The daily average (including Sundays and holidays) was 2.66, as against 2.15 for the year 1905.

MAKES DEATH THREAT

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—Miss Sarah J. Gibney, an actress playing at a Newark theater, complained to the police about a threatening letter that had been delivered to her by fifteen-year-old Arthur Grist of 488 E. 10th street, Newark. Young Grist said that he had been approached on the city pier by an Italian, who gave him the letter and told him to deliver it to the actress.

The letter, which bore the signature of "N. Gerardo," threatened the actress' life because she had neglected to give the writer a position on the stage. It read:

"I have been looking for you all the while. You promised you would try and get me on the stage. If you don't I will kill you as I did another. I sent this boy passing across the river. Give him an answer. I will be down there at 2 o'clock. And if you call an officer I will kill you. I will kill the boy if he looks at the letter. I will track you wherever you go. You know me."

When a policeman was detailed to go and look for the man, he arrested Antonio Tollagosto of 73 River street, who, Grist said, had followed him to the theater.

HEYER ACCEPTS HIS DEFEAT

Admits That Bridge Won Fair Victory for Post of Supervisor.

Charles Heyer is satisfied that W. B. Bridge won out fair and square in the November election for Supervisor and has ceased to continue his contest in the Superior Court any further, so yesterday afternoon his attorney, J. L. McElroy, stipulated that his client was ready to drop the suit and asked that judgment be awarded in favor of Bridge.

The results of the recount increased Bridge's plurality from forty-three to forty-eight votes. In the ten precincts that were counted, he received five more votes than were stated in the returns of the official canvass made by the Board of Supervisors.

In Fruitvale precincts four and five, where Heyer expected to find a large number of votes in his favor than corresponded with the original count. It was found that Bridge had gone ahead two votes. Heyer stated that no fraud or misconduct had been used by the election boards in making their tallies. The case is now over and Bridge can hold his seat without a challenge of the alleged disorder from the last election.

UNSTEERED HORSE CAUSES MUCH HAVOC

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Butter, cheese, eggs, hams, bread, platters and other accessories of the commissary department went shooting wildly last night through the kitchen of the Hotel Brexlin, at Twenty-ninth street and Broadway. A mold had a bad case of butter on her nose. The male chef had his ear adorned by the interior furnishing of an egg. The engineer sported a slab of lard on his cheek, and the steward was embellished around the neck by a chain of sausages.

A hose did all these horrible things. Fire started in the kitchen. The employees, being well trained, made no commotion, but rapidly shunted the horse into the place. The engine turned on the water before his fellows had grasped the nozzle. What the nozzle did was a dream. It whacked the ceiling, pounded the floor, slung against the cupboards, and had a rip-roaring time for five minutes. Also, it put the fire out, and covered the floor with three inches of water.

When the firemen came they found the rubber snake slapping things about and darting here and there like lightning. All the flame-fighters had to do was to subdue the boisterous horse, which they did after some of them had been whalloped over the back and chest by it.

Damage to kitchen, $50.
Damage to feelings of chef, maids, engineer and steward, unrecorded.

Time card No. 23 was issued yesterday by the Union Depot company. This is the only evidence, however, that the depot intends to move soon.

BIG RACE FOR PIEDMONT RINK

Two-Mile Contest for Championship of Coast Tonight—Coming Events.

Those who visit the Piedmont Skating Rink tonight are to witness what should prove to be one of the most exciting races that have ever taken place on rollers. It is to be a two-mile affair, for the championship of the coast, and some of the fastest racers who have been seen here will participate. Everett Sharp, winner of many a contest and wearer of many a medal as a result of his prowess on the rollers, will be one of the contestants; Orin Arnold, a youngster who has startled local skating circles with his speed and who has not lost a contest since he entered the big competitions, is to be another; then there will be such well known performers as Nichols, Pennycook, Merritt, Clarke, Clement Miner and others, and with such a bunch pitted against each other, the affair should prove a veritable whirlwind struggle. The winner is to receive a gold medal.

Tomorrow night there is to be a graceful skating contest, so popular with the ladies, and in fact with all lovers of "the poetry of motion," the winner of which is to receive a season ticket to the rink.

On Saturday night there will be two attractive features. An obstacle race, which is expected to provide no end of fun and excitement, is on the program and open to every one who cares to enter, and will be followed by a mile race in which practically the same bunch of sprinters is entered as will start tonight.

Next week is expected to prove the banner week of the season, for interest, novelty and enjoyment for the public. Professor Bell, who with his little companion, Baby Ruby, has scored an unbroken string of successes during his appearances throughout the East and at other points on the coast, is to begin an engagement at the Piedmont Rink Monday night, January 14. He is said to have a host of new and different tricks that have aided him to acquire his present eminent position.

SUITS FOR DIVORCE

Anna W. Sizer filed a complaint for a divorce yesterday afternoon against William H. Sizer.

Another unhappy couple asking the aid of the divorce courts were Peter Thompson and Clara H. Thompson. The latter sued for divorce.

Claiming that her husband, Jacob Sieg has not complied with the order of the court and paid her $20 a month alimony and $100 attorney's fees, Elizabeth Sieg has petitioned the Superior Court to issue a writ of citation and order her spouse to show cause why he had failed to provide. She asked that he be made to appear on the 18th of this month.

OUR INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

Fire, Accident, Plate Glass, Automobile, Burglary, Employee, and Surety Bonds of All Kinds.

The strongest argument we can offer in favor of this department is that every company represented by our Insurance Department was carefully selected upon its honorable dollar settlement with the sufferers of the great San Francisco fire. We pride ourselves upon the fact that we protect our clients and sell them only insurance that insures. The experience of the sufferers of the San Francisco fire who secured their insurance through agents not familiar or posted has caused untold loss, and in many cases, privation and suffering, and it is the WISE person who profits by the experience of others. A wise man may make a mistake, but a fool repeats it. Are you going to repeat this mistake?

It will pay any one who carries a policy in no matter what company to call upon the managers of this department and let him examine your policy and see if there is a "joker" in same which may cause you a great deal of inconvenience in case of fire. We make no charge for this.

ADJUSTERS FOR THE ASSURED.

We also beg to say that we are adjusters for the assured in case of fire. In case of fire, phone us at once, and we will prepare your proof of loss and obtain a far more satisfactory and quicker settlement than would be possible by the assured. Our wide experience enables us to do this. Day phone, Oakland 553; night phone, Oakland 6054. Never closed. Always at your command.

Modesto and Turlock Bonds

15,000 of the former and 30,000 of the latter for sale

BETTER than bank deposits

WHY?

Because bank deposits yield only 3 1/2 per cent; these 5 per cent, $400 in the bank, pays $33.10. $500 buys you a $1000 bond which pays $50.

Better Than Government Bonds

for the same money in 1 per cent government bonds would yield only $23.20. The security is equal in every way to Government bonds, as all the land in the respective districts is held as a lien by the bonds.

Better Than Loans

when the mortgage tax and annoyance in collecting interest and frequent change of investment is considered. There is no investment in the market equal to these bonds.

Grand Army Calls Attention to Unlawful Wearing of Badges and Buttons.

In a recent order, Colonel W. R. Alberger, department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, calls attention to the unlawful wearing of badges and buttons of the G. A. R. comrades not in good standing. He issues a circular, stating that the G. A. R. is a club, and that no one is entitled to wear or use the same, unless entitled to wear or use the same, under the constitution, by-laws or rules and regulations, or other laws or enactments of such order or society, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Section 19. Penalty—"Imprisonment in the county jail, not to exceed six months, or fine of five hundred dollars, or both."

Continuing, the department commander says:

"Comrades, unwittingly perhaps, are making themselves liable for punishment under this law, and their attention should be called to it with the request to join some post. Continuing this practice they should be prosecuted."

Col. J. A. Colquhoun, National A. D. C., has received a communication from the adjutant-general of the G. A. R. at Zanesville, Ohio, notifying him that the special duty of aides-de-camp on the national staff this year will be that of recruiting the ranks of the organization and the bringing back into active comradeship those who have allowed themselves to be suspended or dropped from the rolls.

The following officers of Lyon Post, No. 8, Department of California and Nevada, have been installed for the year 1907 by J. A. Colquhoun, P. P. C., and A. D. C. on staff of Commander-in-Chief Brown.

Post commander, Major William N. Van De Mark; senior vice-commander, Lieutenant John W. Wilbur; junior vice-commander, E. D. Crowe; chaplain, B. Judell (re-elected); quartermaster, Captain George A. OAKLAND TENT, K. O. T. M.

Oakland tent, No. 17, Knights of the Macabees, has installed the following officers for the current semi-annual term:

Dr. F. W. Shores, commander; J. C. Monson, lieutenant commander; J. L. Fine, record keeper; S. A. Willard, chaplain; J. H. Klempfer, sergeant; F. Reichel, master-at-arms; C. M. Van Horn, first master of guards; E. A. Monson, second master of guards; George Zambuko, sentinel; W. E. Nelson, picket; J. W. Engquist, musician; J. S. Carney, captain degree team; W. Tubbs, property keeper; Dr. F. J. Todd, Dr. E. Stetson, Dr. John Purves, physicians; J. C. Scott, F. W. Shores, A. L. Brunner, trustees.

The installation ceremonies took place at Macabees Temple last Monday evening and were conducted by Great Commander S. W. Hall.

The absence of the tent's old finance keeper, Sir Knight R. S. Koefer, was noticed by all of the old members. Sir Knight Koefer served the tent as its finance keeper for ten years, being installed in the office twenty consecutive times. He at all times conducted the affairs of the office faithfully and efficiently. During the last year his duties as manager of the local business of the Union Ice Company have so increased as to make it impossible for him to longer be active in the tent's affairs, and he tendered his resignation as finance keeper last September, but in deference to the tent's request he served until January 1, when the duties of the finance keeper and finance keeper were combined and will hereafter be centered in one office.

After the close of the review, tables were spread and the sir knights were joined by the ladies of Oakland Lodge, No. 14, all enjoying the refreshments prepared by Caterer J. H. Moon.

The tent has donated the use of its hall to Oakland Division, No. 11, Uniform Rank, for a dance on the evening of January 23, same being a benefit to the Golden West Division, No. 13, Uniform Rank, whose uniforms, paraphernalia, etc., were destroyed in the San Francisco fire of April 18.

Members of the order at large were requested to interest themselves in this affair to the end of making it a big success. Tickets can be procured from members of the uniform rank or from J. F. Fine, 479 Ninth street, Division No. 11, will assist in the installation of the officers of Argonaut Tent, No. 33, at 521 Twelfth street.

A big class of candidates will be initiated next Monday evening.
